Comments : We live in the Cascades Community. We never lost power during and after Hurricane Irma. We were very lucky. Our power lines are underground. I offer this information to suggest you examine this area to determine possibly why power was not lost as a positive, to carry over or duplicate in those areas not so fortunate. Certainly underground lines are best but the lines just outside the community on Lockwood Ridge Rd that feed us, are above ground. Perhaps the construction and operation of those may offer additional positive feedback in ability to survive hurricane weather.
