Subject: Proposed increase in Gulf Power bill

Heard on TV that people could file a complaint or comment about Gulf Power proposing an increase of $14 per month on their power bills. That is outrageous. Mediacom just raised their monthly bill an additional $14 per month also. Coincidence? I think not. Why are both companies raising their bills to such a degree that it is putting a financial burden on families. After taxes, that is an additional $30 a month that every family will have to pay and things are difficult enough already. In addition, auto insurance rates are also going up. I think all of this should be investigated. Sounds to me like greed is the main cause of all of this and not the infrastructure nonsense that Mediacom and Gulf Power are spewing. Their rates have increasingly gone up year after year so where is that money going? Why are we having to pay for them to upgrade when these companies are already making tons of profit and we aren't getting any better service for the increase.

Thank you for your time.
