Comments : I want to see more green energy in Florida, including moving away from utility-scale fossil fuel usage and retiring dangerous nuclear power plants. To do this we need more residential and commercial rooftop solar installations and more windmills, and the policy changes that will spur the change. If our state moves further in this direction that will mean a more resilient electrical grid vs having power plants as the sole source of our electricity, as well as reducing pollution and CO2 emissions. And a better future for us all.
