Comments : I believe that if we don't all begin to consider solar power that we will be missing the boat. It, along with wind-power, is the way to the future. I have solar heat for my swimming pool and for my water at home. Please take solar seriously and figure out a way to make it the energy of choice.

After a storm, it's nice to know that you'll have power--regardless of whether or not the electric company's lines are down. Any way that you can integrate solar into our lives is a plus. We just have to give it a chance and to begin to rely less on the traditional systems we have in place.
