Comments : I hope you will use the recent power outages from the hurricane to understand that FPL's power systems will no longer serve the energy needs of Floridians. The increase in the strength and severity of the storms and hurricanes coming our way suggest that the utilities should be forced to stop all construction of new power plants plus the conversions of old ones that will be powered by natural gas from fracking. Renewable Natural Gas would solve many issues.

The Florida Public Service Commission has the responsibility and the power to force the Florida utilities to do the right thing for our state and our nation. It is your job to protect us and your own families. Thank you. P.S. I wish I had had solar with a back-up battery and could have saved hundreds of dollars in lost food from extra freezer.
