Dear Public Service Commission PSC,

Gulf Power should have been better prepared for Michael. Many years of paying my bill an increase would more hardship.

As a Floridian age 78+, I'm focusing on rebuilding my life and community and don't want to worry about a higher power bill. Along with the financial hardships from the Hurricane Michael, as well as skyrocketing healthcare and housing prices and minimal increases in Social Security, an increase in monthly bills add up for people, like myself, who are on fixed incomes. Why should I pay for their incompetence of management and not being prepared.

Sincerely,

Mr. Donald Todd
