Dear Florida Public Service Commission,

You probably got a million of the same copy-paste message, so I'll type my own. Climate change is real and will severely screw over Florida in the not-so-distant future, so just keep that in mind when making these kinds of decisions. Do whatever you can to reduce fossil fuels and increase renewable energy sources. Help people make their homes more efficient. I don't want my house to literally be underwater in 30 years, that would suck. Don't let that happen. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Scott Weaver
