

Jacob Veaghn

From: Angie Calhoun
Sent: Wednesday, August 12, 2020 9:12 AM
To: Consumer Correspondence
Cc: Diana Vizcarrondo
Subject: Comments for the Undocketed file
Attachments: Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Please place these consumer comments in the un-docketed file.

Thank you,

Angela Calhoun

Jacob Veaghn

From: Morley Schloss <morleynaturist@hotmail.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 9:23 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Morley Schloss
14125 North Road
Loxahatchee, FL 33470

Jacob Veaghn

From: David Nielsen <summerhaven1@mac.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 8:28 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
David Nielsen
9126 Wollitz Plaza
Whitehouse
Marietta, FL 32220

Jacob Veaghn

From: Martha Waltman <marthawaltman@hotmail.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 8:23 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Martha Waltman
P. O. Box 643
Newberry, FL 32669

Jacob Veaghn

From: Greg Gaucher <greggaucher@aol.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 9:25 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Greg Gaucher
1940 Coldfield Dr W
32246
Jacksonville, FL 32246

Jacob Veaghn

From: Paul Kalka <pgkzo@yahoo.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 9:00 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Paul Kalka
4397 Brady Hill Rd
Binghamton, NY 13903

Jacob Veaghn

From: Greg Gaucher <greggaucher@aol.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 9:25 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Greg Gaucher
1940 Coldfield Dr W
32246
Jacksonville, FL 32246

Jacob Veaghn

From: Maureen Lynch <ohbirdpoop@gmail.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 9:08 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Maureen Lynch
3482 Rt 488
Clifton Springs, NY 14432

Jacob Veaghn

From: Tom Schwegler <tomlschwegler@gmail.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 9:29 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

As a supporter of Environment Florida and other environmental organizations, I am writing to thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy.

It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Tom Schwegler
7509 N.W. Kerns Drive
Kansas City, MO 64152

Jacob Veaghn

From: Anita Goncalves <talulabellnin@aol.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 9:21 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Anita Goncalves
90 West akard street
Iudlow, MA 01056

Jacob Veaghn

From: Carolyn Warner <cajwarner@gmail.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 9:22 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Carolyn Warner
1326 Snell Isle Blvd NE
St Petersburg, FL 33704