

Antonia Hover

From: Angie Calhoun
Sent: Wednesday, August 12, 2020 11:00 AM
To: Consumer Correspondence
Cc: Diana Vizcarrondo
Subject: Comments for the Undocketed File
Attachments: Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Please place these consumer comments in the un-docketed file.

Thank you,

Angela Calhoun

Antonia Hover

From: William Rohe <rohel@otenet.gr>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 12:59 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
William Rohe
1209 Deer Run Dr
Winter Springs, FL 32708

Antonia Hover

From: Ryann Lynn <ryannlynn12@gmail.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 12:59 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Ryann Lynn
1420 N Meridian Rd
#116
Tallahassee, FL 32303

Antonia Hover

From: Mark Williams <markdavidw@gmail.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 1:00 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Mark Williams
2275 NE 9th Ave
Wilton Manors, FL 33305

Antonia Hover

From: Bennie Woodard <bwoodard44@yahoo.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 1:02 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Bennie Woodard
208 E Lake Howard Dr Unit #401
Winter Haven, FL 33881

Antonia Hover

From: Megan Flood <fire_down_18@yahoo.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 1:02 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Megan Flood
3360 33rd Ave NE
Naples, FL 34120

Antonia Hover

From: John Dervin <johnder456@msn.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 1:04 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
John Dervin
3638 Craigsher Drive
Apopka, FL 32712

Antonia Hover

From: Larry Lewis <ltlewis10@yahoo.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 1:07 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Larry Lewis
1555 Victoria Way
Winter Garden, FL 34787

Antonia Hover

From: Cecelia Burnett <ceceliaburnett@gmail.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 1:08 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Cecelia Burnett
3114 Pinecrest Street
Sarasota, FL 34239

Antonia Hover

From: Elizabeth Ann Dowds <lizzied28@comcast.net>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 1:09 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Ann Dowds
8366 Robin Rd
Fort Myers, FL 33967

Antonia Hover

From: Nancy Pope <popesandburns@aol.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 1:10 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Nancy Pope
1444 Watermill Circle
Tarpon Springs, FL 34689