

Antonia Hover

From: Angie Calhoun
Sent: Wednesday, August 12, 2020 11:04 AM
To: Consumer Correspondence
Cc: Diana Vizcarrondo
Subject: Comments for the Undocketed File
Attachments: Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; {BULK} Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Please place these consumer comments in the un-docketed file.

Thank you,

Angela Calhoun

Antonia Hover

From: Sarah Harrison <dzigatoo@aol.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 4:33 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Sarah Harrison
4227 SW 102nd Ter
Gainesville, FL 32608

Antonia Hover

From: Robin McCallister <tleand00@comcast.net>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 12:56 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Robin McCallister
2013 East Randolph Circle
Tallahassee, FL 32308

Antonia Hover

From: Marianne Lazarus <mlazarus1@aol.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 4:34 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Marianne Lazarus
700 Trotter Lane, #205
#205
Melbourne, FL 32940

Antonia Hover

From: David Councilman <dlcouncilman@hotmail.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 4:52 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
David Councilman
8801 Westmoreland Ln
Minneapolis, MN 55426

Antonia Hover

From: Carolyn Ryan <carolynmryan@att.net>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 4:54 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Carolyn Ryan
12716 Karenway Ct.
St. Louis, MO 63146

Antonia Hover

From: Keth Luke <keth@awakening-healing.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 4:55 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Keth Luke
5438 Tennessee Ave
New Port Richey, FL 34652

Antonia Hover

From: Joyce Nelson <grovites@mac.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 4:58 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Joyce Nelson
2535 Inagua Avenue
Coconut Grove, FL 33133

Antonia Hover

From: Jan Modjeski <jangenem@sccoast.net>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 5:00 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: {BULK} Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Importance: Low

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Jan Modjeski
4315 Lotus Ct Unit A
Murrells Inlet, SC 29576

Antonia Hover

From: Harriett Barrett <harriettbarrett@ymail.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 5:10 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Harriett Barrett
7051 Toscana Ct
Naples
Naples, FL 34114

Antonia Hover

From: William Stone <williamstone1048@gmail.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 11, 2020 5:14 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
William Stone
2047 Country Club Dr
Tallahassee, FL 32301