

Jacob Veaghn

From: Angie Calhoun
Sent: Tuesday, August 18, 2020 9:09 AM
To: Consumer Correspondence
Cc: Diana Vizcarrondo
Subject: Correspondence for the undocketed file.
Attachments: Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida;
Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida;
Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida;
Continue defending solar rights in Florida; Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Please place these consumer comments in the un-docketed file.

Thank you,

Angela Calhoun

Jacob Veaghn

From: Esteban E <musicalguest86@hotmail.com>
Sent: Thursday, August 13, 2020 9:49 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Esteban E
2520 SW 27th St
Miami, FL 33133

Jacob Veaghn

From: Denise Lytle <centauress6@live.com>
Sent: Friday, August 14, 2020 10:21 AM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Denise Lytle
3207 Plaza Dr.
Apt. 3F
Woodbridge, NJ 07095

Jacob Veaghn

From: Brian Gibbons <btpg2252@yahoo.com>
Sent: Sunday, August 16, 2020 9:35 AM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Brian Gibbons
19510 Lorain Rd Apt 106
#106
Fairview Park, OH 44126

Jacob Veaghn

From: Johnathan Brabazon <jbrabazon@mail.usf.edu>
Sent: Thursday, August 13, 2020 8:33 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Johnathan Brabazon
3913 W El Prado Blvd
Tampa, FL 33629

Jacob Veaghn

From: Isabel Cervera <isabellacer@hotmail.com>
Sent: Friday, August 14, 2020 6:50 AM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Isabel Cervera
2118 s main st
Salisbury Rowan County, NC 28147

Jacob Veaghn

From: Cheryl DeShaies <svandcd@aol.com>
Sent: Thursday, August 13, 2020 12:03 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Cheryl DeShaies
10065 Florence Cir
Naples, FL 34119

Jacob Veaghn

From: Mary Walls <mwalls50@comcast.net>
Sent: Friday, August 14, 2020 4:45 AM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Mary Walls
10450 Keuka Drive
Jacksonville, FL 32218

Jacob Veaghn

From: Abe Levy <abelevy48@gmail.com>
Sent: Thursday, August 13, 2020 11:45 PM
To: Consumer Contact
Subject: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

Florida Public Service Commission

RE: Continue defending solar rights in Florida

null

Thank you for defending Florida's consumers against the recent attack on state control over rooftop solar policy. It's important to see entities like you stand up to special interest groups when vital state policies are threatened, especially when those policies help people get fairly compensated for the energy they contribute to the grid.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives. Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools -- not less -- in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Thank you again for speaking up against the New England Ratepayers Association's attack on these critically important state rights. Please continue to defend solar workers, business owners and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving state jurisdiction over net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Abe Levy
4875 Pelican Colony Blvd Apt 301
Apt 301
Bonita Springs, FL 34134