Dear Florida Public Service Commission,

The middle of a public health and economic crisis is not the time to create more uncertainty by making changes to solar rights that will hurt jobs and take money out of people's pockets.

Eliminating Net Metering will result in fewer people installing solar systems on their homes. The costs will simply be too high. And a sharp drop in demand will cause more trouble for the solar installation industry, one of the fastest-growing job categories in the USA, already being hurt by the ongoing economic troubles of 2020.

People and businesses across the state rely on common sense solar policies to take control of their own energy, and choose how they power their lives.

Solar panels and batteries contribute to the resilience of the electric grid. As we enter hurricane season, Floridians need more tools – not fewer – in order to weather all the storms that are coming our way.

Please defend solar workers, business owners, and homeowners from additional uncertainty by preserving net metering here in Florida.

Sincerely,
Emily Janninck
