Dear Florida Public Service Commission,

I strongly support Florida's current net metering policies. I know from friends and neighbors who have installed solar panels that the net metering credits were an important part of their decision to go solar.

Despite Florida's nickname, we still don't have nearly as much solar in the Sunshine State as we could or should, and net metering helps people afford solar when they otherwise might not be able to do so. Please keep the current policies in place until we have much more solar in Florida!

Sincerely,
Jason Liechty
