I AGREE

COLUMBUS

A Georgia city is delaying an increase in water rates by three months, saying residents are struggling financially because of the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Ledger-Enquirer reports that the five-member board of the Columbus Water Works, which includes Mayor Skip Henderson, unanimously voted Monday to delay a 3.75% rate hike from January to April. The vote came after a majority of Columbus council members requested a postponement. The council appoints the four other members of the water works board.

When your CEO'S and BOD members along with upper Management take a 3.75% pay cut let me know! We are in a PANDEMIC! - WAKE UP! Delay and plan better!
