Subject: Public Comment on Docket #20210015-EI

Dear Public Service Commission,

The past year has been a very difficult one for many businesses and residents. While inflation has increased over the past six months, it is largely attributed to supply shortages and shouldn't last. As a resident of Florida, I find the proposed rate increase to be excessive, and placing a burden on utility customers at a time when many Floridians can least afford to pay more.

Looking into the proposed increase, it appears that FPL is trying to charge its regular customers for a range of new projects that aren't essential. Most importantly, FPL does not need to spend billions of dollars to build more fossil fuel units, rebuild an already-sufficient transmission system, and give their shareholders a raise.

urge you to hold the line for reasonable and necessary increases and to vote NO on FPL's excessive proposed rate increases.

Thank you.

Sincerely,
Christopher McDermott
