CONSUMER COMMENTS

A recent move necessitated change from SECO to Duke Energy with new "experimentation" costs? We considered SECO an excellent cost effective provider.
We have absolutely NO value for wind, solar or any alternative source "experiment" that in reality damages the earth (disposal requirements), animals (birds) and scenic Florida beauty (windmills & solar farms). Alternative energy "schemes" have a history of failure, low productivity and wasted customer dollars. Power generators should use a percentage of their profits to experiment with - not charge us!
