Dear Commissioner

I understand everything is costing more now. However, with the nightmare two years we have had with the pandemic, I question increasing the cost of electricity. Food costs and fuel costs have risen beyond what a family of four can afford, to say nothing of the families living below the poverty level. People, like retirees, living on a fixed income already have to decide if they will eat or pay for medicine. Please do not add to this dilemma.

Thank you,

Pamela Veiga
