Dear Commissioner

My wife and I are on fixed incomes. The proposed rate increases combined with already rising CPI means we will have even more difficulty meeting our bills. According to research and news articles I've read, FPL is actually in a position to decrease rates instead of increasing them. Please, especially if this is the case, consider how current inflation affects those on fixed incomes and families in general. I strongly encourage you to reexamine this FPL rate increase, research their income statements and make a decision that won't negatively impact so many consumers in these financially difficult times.

Thank you,

Robert Diamond
