I want to weigh in on Duke Energy's request to increase rates once again. Since I've lived in NW Central FL and have had Duke as my provider the rates have gone up, up, and up. I understand costs but also notice that Duke has also had record profits. Maybe they should dip into their own money every now and then rather than always into mine. Enough is enough. My electric bill went up $110 from December to January. Yes, I know we had a cold snap but I live alone and rarely use heat if at all possible. It is sad that I feel I need to sit in my house wearing a sweatshirt and shoes because using heat is too expensive. I'm actually lucky in that I have a fairly good paying job...there are many seniors and young families that are worse off than me. I'm tired of not having any say or choice when it comes to electric. Maybe it is time to break the monopoly and allow competition...bet prices would fall then... At this point my option is continue to sit in the dark and cold or spend $$$ for solar.

Then there will be one less person on the grid for them bleed dry. Thank you for listening. Hopefully for once you will say no. Try it, it feels great.
