I just read that Teco is requesting a base rate hike, is this true and if so why the base rate? Is it to collect more from those of us who have paid for solar panels to help reduce our power bills and they realize that so they want to make sure to collect more from us? I am just sick over this and the fact that they are building more solar fields that we are also having to pay for but get no benefits from. Please deny the base rate hike that they are requesting as I fell that they are requesting it due to the number of homes that are going to solar to help reduce their bill and the base rate hike would be the only way for them to collect more money from those with solar.
