Hello - I'm a TECO customer and I'm writing to request that they not be given a rate increase. They've received several increases in recent years and are now touting to their customers that rates are coming down. So, what - rates come down for a month before going up ten percent? They should stick to their representations, otherwise this is a deceptive business practice.

They're making money hand over fist - please don't allow them to enrich themselves even more. They don't need it.

Thank you -
Jeremy Korch
