The rate increase for electricity from TECO is questionable. I work from a budget. Why should consumers dip into their savings to pay for increases on their electric bills in order to help TECO increase their saving/profits? Should consumers be supporting" TECO financially? TECO savings can be found in the "fat" in the upper ranks. The consumers should not be part of any rate increases. The consumer should not have to alter their budget to satisfy TECO's profits at our expense. PSC's duty is to protect the consumer. Will you uphold your duty to protect the consumers or will you abandoned us
