Teco increasing rates again and claiming it will help its customers is a joke. We pay nearly $100 more a month than we did when we moved to the area 5 years ago. More greed from these companies that have our hands tied. In a volatile economic environment where property taxes and home insurance costs are making it nearly impossible for hard working folks to afford to live check to check, it's shameful that a utility company we are forced to do business with continues to take from its customer's pockets. I really hope this pushback gains steam and is heard by reasonable ears. Teco should be ashamed of themselves for proposing this rate hike in the first place. How about taking from your record profits instead of from my children's mouths.
