TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

This is a farming community that relies on our water to farm our land. As farmers, we are already fighting salt water intrusion, with people moving out our way, we have seen a lower output of water when we are using our pumps. The influx of another 3300 homes along with a water plant will be devastating to our water source. The infrastructure is not available for the farmers to have to compete with a water plant and 3300 homesites. I am protesting the application of a water plant.

Regards,
Georgia Jones
