Three Commissioners Confirmed

CHAIRMAN

Art Graham

COMMISSIONER

Gary Clark

Andrew Fay

FPSC Chairman Art Graham and Commissioners Gary F. Clark and Andrew Giles Fay were unanimously confirmed by the Florida Senate on March 9. Governor Rick Scott reappointed Chairman Graham and appointed Commissioner Clark last year to the Commission and appointed Commissioner Fay, a former chief deputy to Attorney General Pam Bondi, earlier this year.

PURC Conference Keynote Speaker

FPSC Commissioner Donald Polmann provided a keynote address, "Protecting our Infrastructure," at the 45th Annual Public Utility Research Center (PURC) Conference on February 22. PURC is an internationally recognized academic center that provides training in utility regulation and strategy, as well as leadership development in infrastructure policy. For more than 40 years, PURC's annual conference has served as a neutral forum for engaging dialogue on issues facing utility service providers, policy-makers, and regulatory agencies. The conference, held in Gainesville, brings key leaders in industry and academia together, primarily from Florida and the Southeast.

Commissioner Brown Passes the Gavel

At the January 9 Commission Conference, Commissioner Julie Brown received an honorary gavel commemorating her two years as PSC Chairman (January 2016-January 2018) from current Chairman Art Graham. Her fellow Commissioners praised her many accomplishments and in her closing remarks, Commissioner Brown said, "Though ending my term as Chair, I will continue my goal of making customers' interaction with the PSC a more seamless experience no matter where they are!"
