Introduction

The Florida Public Service Commission (PSC) regulates utilities under its jurisdiction and serves consumers in all matters related to utility regulation. Specific responsibilities of the PSC, however, are often confusing to the general public. Consumers may call the PSC when, in fact, they need to be in contact with another agency that can better assist them.

Where to Find Help provides an overview of the PSC and an explanation of assistance available to consumers for utility-related complaints. The publication also includes general information about the state's electric and gas utilities and helpful conservation tips.

In addition to information about the PSC's services, Where to Find Help offers information about various social service agencies that can assist consumers. Many of the social services listed are in response to questions from consumers who have called the PSC's toll-free number looking for help. If you have questions about Where to Find Help, please call the PSC's Outreach Team at (850) 413-6482.

Florida Public Service Commission

The Florida Public Service Commission consists of five members appointed by the Governor. The Commissioners must be confirmed by the Florida Senate prior to serving four-year terms. Commissioners are selected for their knowledge and experience in one or more fields substantially related to the duties and functions of the PSC. These fields include such areas as accounting, economics, energy, engineering, finance, natural resource conservation, public affairs, and law.

The Commission's work is a balancing act, weighing the needs of a utility and its shareholders with the needs of consumers. For water and electric utility companies, the Commission establishes exclusive service territories, regulates rates and profits, and requires the utility to provide service to all who request it. With the introduction of increased competition in local telephone markets, the Commission is responsible for encouraging and promoting fair and reasonable growth within the telecommunications industry.

The PSC's primary responsibility is to ensure that customers of regulated utility companies receive safe and reliable service at fair and reasonable rates. At the same time, the Commission is required by law to ensure that regulated utility companies are allowed an opportunity to earn a fair return on their investments to provide utility service.

The main PSC offices are located in Tallahassee, with district offices in Tampa and Miami. PSC staff includes experts in such areas as accounting, economics, engineering, finance, and law.

You may contact the PSC by calling 1-800-342-3552, or see our Website at www.FloridaPSC.com.

Office of the Public Counsel

The Office of Public Counsel is authorized by law to represent consumers in proceedings before the Florida Public Service Commission (PSC). Public Counsel can be reached at (850) 488-9330, or toll-free at 1-800-342-0222. Procedural requirements for participation in formal Commission hearings are codified in Chapter 25-22, Florida Administrative Code.

Intervenors in Public Service Commission rate case proceedings may file testimony, cross-examine witnesses, and be cross-examined themselves. Because formal participation is more demanding and technical in nature, that level of involvement is normally used by organizations with resources to hire attorneys or by individuals who are familiar with utility matters. Intervenor status must be approved by the Public Service Commission.

Services Provided by Electric and Gas Utilities

For many of us, our incomes are stretched each month in order to pay our bills, especially if a family member has a disability. If you or someone in your family is having difficulty paying electric or gas bills, this booklet can help you find sources of assistance in Florida. This booklet is intended for use by utility customers, utility representatives, and service agencies in Florida.

Information about these programs and their funding regularly changes. To get accurate and up-to-date information about these programs and their requirements, the Commission recommends contacting these programs directly.

Shut-off or termination of utility service is a serious matter. It is important to contact your utility as soon as you receive a shut-off notice. Remember, to avoid having your utility service shut off you have the responsibility to contact the utility company immediately with any billing dispute or payment problem. This is especially true if you or someone in your household has a disability, or requires the use of medical equipment powered by electricity. Many of Florida's electric utilities have reported to the Commission that they take special measures to avoid disconnecting a customer's power if the customer qualifies for the medically essential services program. These measures include:

- (1) delaying shut-offs;
- (2) working out individual payment arrangements that are more affordable to the customer;

CONTINUED

- (3) using funds donated by utility customers, typically known as “Care” or “Share” funds, to help pay power bills in emergency situations; and
- (4) referring the customer to LIHEAP, a government program that helps pay power bills, and other sources of assistance.

Customers, with household members who require medically essential services, should notify the utility company of their situation prior to payment emergencies. Investor-owned utilities, when made aware of these situations, have special notification procedures when payment is not received, that include an extended notification period and more personal notice.

In addition, there are several programs that investor-owned utilities commonly offer to all customers that may be useful in reducing the number of payment emergencies. Most utilities offer third-party notification, where a customer may designate another party to also be notified about electric and gas bills. Another utility program that commonly is offered, known as “budget billing,” bases monthly bills on the average power consumed over the past year, which reduces monthly fluctuation in utility bills. Your utility company also may be willing to bill you at the time of the month at which you are most likely to have funds on hand to pay the bill, such as after you receive a Social Security check. If a power outage from a storm would endanger your health, it is critical to have an alternative power source on hand.

Your utility company customer service representative should be able to provide you with information about these and other available services of the utility. If you are having difficulty obtaining these services, contact the Florida Public Service Commission at 1-800-342-3552 for assistance.

Medically Essential Electric Service

Do you or someone you know have a medical condition that requires electrically-powered equipment that must be operated continually to sustain life or avoid serious medical complications? What would happen if you could not pay your electric bill? Would your electric service be disconnected?

Shut-off or termination of utility service is a serious matter. It is important to contact your utility as soon as you receive a shut-off notice. To avoid having your utility service shut off, it's your responsibility to contact the utility company immediately with any billing dispute or payment problem.

The electric utilities regulated by the Florida Public Service Commission (Florida Power & Light Co., Florida Public Utilities Company, Duke Energy Florida, LLC, Tampa Electric Co., and Gulf Power Company) have identical tariffs that define how the companies will address a customer who needs "continuously operating electric-powered medical equipment necessary to sustain the life of or avoid serious medical complications requiring immediate hospitalization of the customer or another permanent resident at the service address" and has not paid his electric bill.

For customers requiring Medically Essential Electric Service, the major points to remember are:

- ◆ The customer must request and complete an application, including medical certification of need, at least annually to remain eligible for the Medically Essential Electric Service program.
- ◆ The customer's need for medically essential service must be certified by a doctor of medicine licensed to practice in Florida.
- ◆ The company is required to grant an extension of not more than 30 days beyond the date service would normally be disconnected for nonpayment.
- ◆ The company must give written notice of the date that the service is liable for disconnection based upon the 30-day extension.
- ◆ The customer is then responsible for making the payment by the end of that time period or making other arrangements to meet his medical needs.
- ◆ No later than noon on the day prior to the disconnection date, the company must attempt to contact the customer by telephone to advise him or her of the impending disconnection.

- ◆ If the company cannot reach an adult member of the household by telephone, it must send a representative to the residence no later than 4 p.m. on the day before the scheduled disconnection to advise the customer of the impending disconnection.
- ◆ If no one is home, the representative may leave written notification of the disconnection.
- ◆ This plan cannot ensure that the customer will have electric service 100 percent of the time. Natural disasters, equipment failures, or other unforeseen events may cause a service interruption.
- ◆ The customer is responsible for any backup equipment and/or power supply in case of an outage.

Some utilities have programs to help customers with special needs find ways to pay their utility bills. Programs may vary by company, so you should call your electric company for details about qualifying for these programs. Other programs like the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) may be able to assist customers whose income falls below the Federal Poverty Guidelines. A list, by county, of other contacts to assist with bill payments is also available on page 51 of this publication.

Text of the Medically Essential Service Tariff

For purposes of this section, a Medically Essential Service Customer is a residential customer whose electric service is medically essential, as affirmed through the certificate of a doctor of medicine licensed to practice in the State of Florida. Service is “medically essential” if the customer has continuously operating electric-powered medical equipment necessary to sustain the life of or avoid serious medical complications requiring immediate hospitalization of the customer or another permanent resident at the service address. The physician’s certificate shall explain briefly and clearly, in non-medical terms, why continuance of electric service is medically essential, and shall be consistent with the requirements of the Company’s tariff. A customer who is certified as a Medically Essential Service Customer must renew such certification periodically through the procedures outlined above. The Company may require certification no more frequently than 12 months.

The Company shall provide Medically Essential Service Customers with a limited extension of time, not to exceed thirty (30) days, beyond the date service would normally be subject to disconnection for nonpayment of bills (following the requisite notice pursuant to Rule 25-6.105 (5) of the Florida Administrative Code). The Company shall provide the Medically Essential Service Customer with written notice specifying the date of disconnection based on the limited extension. The Medically Essential Service Customer shall be responsible for making mutually satisfactory arrangements to ensure payment within this additional extension of time for service provided by the Company and for which payment is past due, or to make other arrangements for meeting medically essential needs.

No later than 12 noon one day prior to the scheduled disconnection of service of a Medically Essential Service Customer, the Company shall attempt to contact such customer by telephone in order to provide notice of the scheduled disconnect date. If the Medically Essential Service Customer does not have a telephone number listed on the account, or if the utility cannot reach such customer or other adult resident of the premises by telephone by the specified time, a field representative will be sent to the residence to attempt to contact the Medically Essential Service Customer, no later than 4 p.m. of the day prior to scheduled disconnection. If contact is not made, however, the company may leave written notification at the residence advising the Medically Essential Service Customer of the scheduled disconnect date; thereafter, the Company may disconnect service on the specified date. The Company will grant special consideration to a Medically Essential Service Customer in the application of Rule 25-6.097(3) of the Florida Administrative Code.

In the event that a customer is certified as a Medically Essential Service Customer, the customer shall remain solely responsible for any backup equipment and/or power supply and a planned course of action in the event of power outages. The Company does not assume, and expressly disclaims, any obligation or duty: to monitor the health or condition of the person requiring medically essential service; to insure continuous service; to call, contact, or otherwise advise of service interruptions; or, accept as expressly provided by this section, to take any other action (or refrain from any action) that differs from the normal operations of the Company.

Conserve Your World - Conservation Tips

Control your thermostat. The recommended winter setting for daytime use is 65-68 degrees Fahrenheit and 55-58 degrees at night. During summer months, the recommended setting is 78 degrees.

Turn off all lights when you leave a room or when not in use.

During the cold winter months, wrap your water heater with insulation.

Avoid using hot water for washing clothes. Washing with cold or warm temperatures works well with today's detergents.

Clean the lint filter in your dryer after each use and clean the exhaust hose periodically. This allows the air to circulate efficiently and helps eliminate fire hazards.

Weatherstrip doors and windows and seal unused doors. Savings in annual energy could amount to 10 percent or more.

Close off the chimney when your fireplace is not in use. An open damper in a 48-inch square fireplace can let up to eight percent of your heat escape out of the chimney.

Ceiling fans should turn clockwise in the summer and counter-clockwise in the winter. Reversing the direction of the blades pushes warm air down into the room.

Schedule a free home energy audit by calling your utility's customer service department.

Cover pans when cooking to reduce the amount of heat needed and the cooking time.

Cover your water bed with a quilt or comforter to trap heat under covers to save on water-bed heating costs.

Fix dripping faucets and save up to 2,400 gallons of hot water each year.

Heat a room with a portable space heater only when necessary; use it to heat people, not rooms.

What costs more . . . baking a potato in the microwave or the oven?

The oven. It costs about 22 cents per hour, while the microwave only costs about 10 cents. Plus, the microwave cooks the potato in about 8 minutes, while the oven takes about 40 minutes.

How much does it cost to leave a lamp on overnight?

About $1.60 a month for a lamp with a 75-watt bulb that's on for 10 hours each night. A compact fluorescent could give off the same light for about 42 cents a month.

Assistance Programs in Florida

Assistance programs outlined in this booklet are based on the best information available at the time of production. In particular, we relied on Florida Legal Services, which represents low-income persons in Florida, to identify many of the assistance programs available to low-income persons in the state, and to draft descriptions of these programs for this booklet. However, program information, funding and requirements regularly changes. For up-to-date information, contact the programs directly.

When applying for any of the government programs in this booklet, take the information listed below. Some programs may require different or additional information. If you apply for assistance and cannot obtain this information, a caseworker will let you know what additional information will be required and might be able to help you get it. Area Agencies on Aging

Eleven Area Agencies on Aging throughout Florida provide services to elders, such as adult day care, home care and chore assistance, Meals On Wheels, energy bill assistance under the LIHEAP program, counseling, transportation, respite care, health support services, emergency alert response, environmental modifications, information, and referral.

Who is eligible?

The different programs administered by the Area Agencies on Aging in Florida have slightly different eligibility criteria. These programs are funded by state and federal sources. Program recipients must be at least 60 years of age, and priority is given to low-income and frail elders.

What do the services cost?

Area Agencies on Aging in Florida generally provide services to recipients without charge. Recipients are offered an opportunity to contribute to the cost of services. Some of the services provided by the Agencies that enable an elderly person to remain at home, or that assist with Alzheimer's disease, require a small monthly co-payment, based on income. The co-payment entitles recipients to approved services during the month.

How do I apply?

Florida has a toll-free Elder Helpline, 1-800-963-5337, that automatically routes the caller to the nearest Area Agency on Aging. Through the Elder Helpline, you may find out how to apply for services and receive referral information to other programs, as needed. The Elder Helpline is open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Area Agencies on Aging maintain waiting lists for all of their programs. The Area Agency on Aging will do an initial intake and assessment for services rendered. Cases are handled on a priority basis.

Charitable Organizations

Some charitable organizations help pay utility bills and other costs associated with averting power disconnections.

Who is eligible?

Usually, charitable funds that help pay utility bills and related costs are made available on a first-come, first-served basis, according to the requirements of the particular program.

What benefits are provided?

Charitable funds, depending on availability, can provide payment assistance for utility bills to avoid disconnections. In addition, other items such as blankets, replacement medicines, and similar expenses may be provided, subject to the availability of funds.

How do I apply?

Charitable funds are distributed within local communities. Government-Assisted Mortgages

Government-insured and government-subsidized mortgages are available to help home purchasers qualify for mortgages, to reduce the cost of the home-purchase mortgages, and to provide safeguards against losing the purchased home due to decreases in household income.

Who is eligible?

Government-assisted mortgages are available to homebuyers who intend to live in the home. What benefits are provided?

The most frequently used mortgage assistance programs are the FHA-insured and VA-insured mortgage programs. The FHA program limits down payment requirements to three percent or five percent of the appraised value of the house. Participating lenders are required by the FHA and encouraged by the VA to provide borrowers who default on their mortgages an opportunity to enter into agreements to lower payments for a period of time to catch up with their mortgage payments.

Other mortgage assistance programs specifically target low to moderate income first-time homebuyers. For example, Florida Housing Finance Corporation offers the First-Time Homebuyers Program, through which qualifying first-time homebuyers may take advantage of low interest rate mortgages available through numerous participating lenders across the state. Depending on income and family size, homebuyers may also qualify for zero percent, non-amortizing second mortgage loans to help with down payments and closing costs.

Who is eligible?

Medicare is available to all citizens and certain legal aliens who are at least 65 years of age, who have permanent kidney failure, or who receive Social Security payments based upon age or disability. Medicare insurance is available based upon disability in cases in which entitlement to disability benefits has lasted for 24 months.

What benefits are provided?

Part A Medicare insurance covers hospital services, skilled nursing facilities, home health services, and hospice care. Medicare pays Part A providers directly, with recipients being responsible for a deductible and a 20 percent co-insurance requirement. Part A coverage may be purchased through the payment of a premium by individuals who are at least 65 years of age and do not qualify for Social Security.

Part B Medicare insurance, which requires the payment of a premium in all cases, covers physician services, outpatient hospital care, lab tests, and certain other medical services, equipment and supplies. There is a deductible and a 20 percent co-insurance requirement. Some Medicare managed care plans include coverage of other medical expenses, such as dental care, eyeglasses, hearing aids, and prescription drugs, within their Part B coverage. Providers of Part B services may elect to “accept assignment,” in which case they will accept payment directly from Medicare, and not charge more than what Medicare pays for, plus the co-insurance requirement. Medicare participants often purchase privately offered “medigap” insurance to help cover remaining medical expenses. Medicare requires open enrollment periods for this insurance.

Medicare recipients with a household income below the federal poverty level who meet a financial resources test may use Medicaid to pay for Medicare premiums, deductibles, and co-insurance requirements, under the Qualified Medical Beneficiary program. If your household income is less than 120 percent of the poverty level and you meet the resources test, you still may use Medicaid to pay for your Part B premium, under the Special Low-Income Beneficiary program. Workers' compensation also provides lost wages up to an amount representing the statewide average wage and, as needed, re-employment assistance, consisting of placement assistance and retraining when appropriate. An employee may not be terminated for being injured on the job, but the employee's position need not be kept open until the employee is able to return to work. Benefits are provided until the employee attains the maximum amount of medical improvement, as determined by the health care provider, and the employee may receive additional medical care by making co-payments.

How do I apply?

You may apply for workers' compensation through your employer. If you have any questions, you may contact the state Employee Assistance Office at 1-800-342-1741 or the Worker's Compensation Customer Service Center at (850) 413-1601. You may appeal workers' compensation decisions and may be represented by an attorney in your appeal.

Consumer Credit Counseling

Consumer Credit Counseling Service (also known as CCCS) is a non-profit organization that provides low-cost assistance to those needing personal financial counseling, which many times includes a creditor repayment plan.

Who is eligible?

Consumers who would like assistance with managing their monthly living costs and creditor payments may receive counseling at many local offices, through telephone or the Internet.

What services are provided?

A certified, professional counselor helps you to break down your income, living expenses, and creditor payments into monthly amounts by preparing a personal budget. Recommendations are made, where appropriate, to reduce expenses, increase income, or make adjustments to improve your financial situation. If desired, a creditor repayment plan may be established. Many creditors will stop late fees and overlimit fees to reduce or stop finance charges as an incentive for joining the Debt Management Plan. A monthly deposit is made to CCCS, who in turn makes monthly payments to the creditors.

How do I apply?

You may apply by calling the Consumer Credit Counseling Service that administers the service in your area. Immediate counseling may be available.

Emergency Assistance

The Emergency Financial Assistance for Housing Program (EFAHP) helped with late rent or mortgage payments or rental deposits to prevent households with children from losing their homes because of non-payment or natural disaster.

After many years of service, the EFAHP program has been repealed and replaced with a homeless prevention grant to local agencies. The Florida Department of Children and Families (DCF) are no longer accepting applications for help with overdue rent, mortgage payments or security deposits.

Please call the following organizations for a list of agencies in your area that might be able to help, or you may call the 211 helpline (just dial 211):

- Jewish Family Services
- Catholic Charities
- Lutheran Social Services
- The Salvation Army
- The United Way

You may also call your local homeless coalition. A list of homeless coalitions is available at <https://www.floridajobs.org/community-planning-and-development/community-services/weatherization-assistance-program>.

Free and Reduced-Price School Lunch Program

Eligible school children receive free or reduced-price breakfasts and lunches.

Who is eligible?

School children are eligible to receive free or reduced-price school breakfasts and lunches if:

- ◆ They are qualified as economically needy in the Head Start Program for preschool children. To be qualified as economically needy you must apply.
- ◆ The child has been approved for food stamps or TANF.
- ◆ The household's current income is below income eligibility guidelines.

What benefits are provided?

The program provides free and reduced-price breakfasts and lunches to eligible school children participating in the school lunch program. Free and reduced-price breakfasts and lunches are required to meet USDA nutritional standards and may not be different than the meals served to other school children. Participants in the free and reduced-price meals programs may not be segregated from children paying full price for school meals.

How do I apply?

School children receive applications for the school lunch program, which they are instructed to give to their parents. Parents who wish for their children to receive free or reduced-price meals fill out the application and return it to their children's school. This program is available in public schools, private schools, shelters, and residential areas.

Legal Service Offices (Legal Aid)

Legal service offices are nonprofit agencies that provide free legal assistance, including representation in court cases and administrative hearings, to eligible individuals.

Who is eligible?

Individuals, who in their current living situation have income below 125 percent of the federal poverty level or who are at least 65 years of age, may apply for legal assistance with the legal services (or legal aid) offices within their communities. Legal service offices are unable to serve everyone who requests assistance, so they have been required to establish case-acceptance priorities based upon the type and severity of the legal problem. Applicants for assistance are notified of the assistance that will be made available to them. The most common areas in which legal service offices provide assistance include family law, public benefits, housing, consumer law, education, probate law, and individual rights.

Several other sources of free legal assistance are available. Your local pro-bono lawyer referral service provides free legal assistance to low-income and elderly individuals through volunteer private attorneys. Paternity establishment and child support enforcement cases that do not involve custody disputes typically are handled by local child support enforcement offices in Florida. These offices do not charge for their services. Criminal law cases are handled by public defender offices, which also do not charge.

What do the services cost?

There is no charge for legal assistance or for court costs from legal services and legal aid offices.

How do I apply?

You may request free legal assistance by calling the legal services or legal aid office in your community. Assistance may also be available from your local pro-bono lawyer referral service and, for appropriate cases, your local child support enforcement office and public defender's office. Phone numbers should be listed in your phone book for the first two services in the "attorneys" section. The latter two services should be listed in the "county government" section. The phone numbers also are listed in the Florida Bar Journal Directory, which is distributed to all Florida courts, law offices, and law libraries.

Railroad Retirement Board Benefits

Employees of railroads, their spouses, and dependents, including survivors, receive Railroad Retirement benefits for retirement or disability similar to Social Security benefits.

Who is eligible?

Employees of railroads, their spouses, and dependents may receive assistance payments, similar to Social Security benefits, from the Railroad Retirement Board for retirement or disability. Eligibility for Railroad Retirement benefits based upon retirement is determined by a combination of length of service as a railroad employee and age. Eligibility based upon disability is determined by Social Security standards for disability, except that employees “currently connected” to railroads need to meet a lesser standard.

What benefits are provided?

Railroad retirement benefits are based on the railroad worker’s service and earnings credits. Railroad Retirement and Social Security benefits are coordinated so that recipients receive full credit for their work histories. Railroad Retirement benefit payees also receive Medicare.

How do I apply?

You may apply for railroad retirement benefits through your local Railroad Retirement Board district office, either in person, at a service location of the office, by telephone, or by mail. There are two district offices in Florida: in Jacksonville (550 Water Street, Suite 220, Jacksonville, FL 32202-4411), and in Tampa (Timberlake Federal Building, Suite 300, 500 East Zack Street, Tampa, FL 33602-3918). Both locations can be reached at phone number (877) 772-5772. If you are applying for disability benefits, you will have to provide relevant medical records as directed in the application.
