Hello Walter:

I listened to the early part of the Smart Meter Workshop archived and I would like to comment on the complexity of this situation.

I believe you cannot undermine and explain scientifically the affects of the Smart Meter on the human body. I work with individuals everyday in Lee and Collier counties in Florida on everyday health issues to life threatening health disorders and diseases. I can only come to a simple summation that every body's body type is different and varies in immunity, age, lifestyle, pre existing conditions etc.

Last Winter with the Snowbird population at it's peak and the Smart Meters were being installed in neighborhoods that included a few retired Clientele. There was a marked deterioration in the health of a few woman over the age of 60. Since my work is confidential a few of my clients confided in me that they were having concerns of cognitive issues. Their health was taking a very fast nose dive to say the least. The lifestyle of these Women is well health lifestyle with endless income supply. They have had a convenient lifestyle that anyone would marvel at. I can only summarize and find a common denominator that a Smart Meter was installed in their home weeks before they revealed their mental blanking out and cognitive issues.

I wanted to share with you first hand what my own research and findings have indicated a true picture of the EMF concerns on human health close up .

I would like to share with you a Medical Doctor in California has reported from California Residents. Dr. Bill Deagle's website is:

I hope we can have an open line of communication to come up with the best solutions for everyone.
Thank you for your time and consideration.
