I am the owner of a solar powered home. Net metering was part of my original cost-benefit analysis. Please do not do anything to affect this in any way. I think it is important that you keep it to encourage individuals to install private solar electric generating systems. The benefits to the state are enormous and increase the greater the number of distributed generating systems that are installed. Those benefits are in the areas of environment, economy, and security. Please encourage installation of rooftop solar panels by private contractors. Thank you for considering my request.
